- appeals to and captures the attention of arbitral tribunals
- the most beautiful advocate, and a delight to listen to...he has one of those mellifluous voices
- formidable advocacy skills; he is fantastic on his feet – it's where he really comes to life
- fabulous with clients who love his elegant manner and way with words
- excellent judgment and meticulous attention to detail
- easy to work with and a great team player
- one of the most impressive barristers
- his gravitas, intelligence and knowledge make him judge material

Practice

Christopher Moger has an extensive and wide ranging commercial practice with particular experience in:

- Professional negligence
- Commercial litigation and arbitration
- Insurance and reinsurance
- Gaming and Lotteries law

Christopher is also a member of Arbitration Chambers Hong Kong – a multi-national office specialising in international arbitrations seated in Hong Kong and in the wider Asian area.

Professional negligence

Christopher's practice has for many years encompassed substantial professional negligence disputes. He acts and advises in litigation concerning a wide range of professions, in particular disputes involving accountants, auditors, insurance brokers, actuaries, lawyers and valuers. He usually but not invariably acts for the professional on the instructions of their insurer.

Commercial litigation and arbitration

Christopher advises and acts in relation to a wide variety of commercial agreements. His work includes every aspects of contract law including contractual interpretation, implied terms, exclusion clauses, repudiation, misrepresentation and fraud, damages and foreign law. He has particular experience of disputes in relation to share sale agreements.

He maintains a significant practice in international commercial arbitrations. Recent cases have involved a Stockholm arbitration in relation to a joint venture dispute between a Chinese Company and a French corporation in relation to a joint venture in China, Hong Kong arbitrations under UNCITRAL rules in relation to disputes arising out of infrastructure investments in the People's Republic of China (PRC) and Chinese

Law, an arbitration in Singapore under SIAC rules relating to a dispute between a US Corporation and a PRC SOE in relation to the misuse of confidential information , and an arbitration in Zurich in relation to a dispute relating to the use by NATO forces of facilities in Croatia.

Insurance and reinsurance

Christopher has extensive experience of all types of disputes relating to insurance law. He regularly advises and appears for and against insurers and re-insurers in contractual disputes over treaty wordings and policy interpretation. He has represented insurers in their dealings with the Financial Ombudsman Service. He has been involved in litigation relating to the response of employers' liability wordings to long tail asbestos disease liabilities.

Gaming and Lotteries law

Christopher has advised and represented the Industry Regulator, formerly the Gaming Board for Great Britain and now the Gambling Commission, for many years in relation to casino licensing, internet gaming, the laws of lotteries, and gaming machines. In recent years he has also advised and represented casino operators, gaming machine manufacturers and internet gambling businesses in the UK and overseas.

Arbitration and Mediation

Christopher has extensive experience of arbitration as an advocate in the UK and overseas and as an arbitrator. Recent appointments as arbitrator include acting as a party appointed arbitrator in an HKIAC arbitration under Uncitral Rules in relation to a joint venture in the PRC between a US corporation and a Chinese company; appointment by the HKIAC as Chairman of a tribunal dealing with a shipbuilding dispute in China; acting as party appointed arbitrator in an LCIA arbitration relating to a dispute between Indian entities about investments in Mauritius; and acting as a party appointed arbitrator in an ICC arbitration arising out of an agreement between French, Norwegian/British and Swedish Companies relating to the research and development and subsequent marketing of a gas turbine engine.
