International arbitration is in worldwide demand and the Asian business community has in particular come to appreciate the advantages of arbitration as an effective method for resolving commercial disputes. Roughly 3,000 arbitration cases were heard worldwide last year of which 40% had a direct link to Asia. Due to Asia's role in the expansion of international arbitration it is imperative to understand how arbitration agreements can be tailored to suit Asian interests.

HK45 is delighted to welcome young arbitration professionals in Korea to participate in its first event in Seoul. The debate will highlight problematic issues and provide advice on how best to protect the "Asian position". Armed with our strategies and insightful tips you can continue to recommend international arbitration as the favoured form of dispute resolution.

Confirmed Speakers:

Chiann Bao, Secretary-General, Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre

Nils Eliasson, Partner, Mannheimer Swarling
